A JUST TRIBUTE TO THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.—The democratic party are intrusted with the administration of three fifths of the whole number of States. For the second time since the war they are in a majority of the national House of Representatives. The democratic policy upon both occasions when they have been in power in the House has been one of conservatism and economy. During the period of financial issues, the democratic party suffered to a greater extent than the republican from the Western crisis for repudiation and inflation, but upon nearly all the great financial measures the best men of both parties were compelled to unite to save them. Since these issues were measurably settled by the resumption of specie payment, the democratic party has laid itself open to criticism more by its timidity and conservatism than by the exhibition of any other quality. In the greatest test of patriotism to which the democratic party has been subjected since the war—that of peaceful submission to the injustice of the electoral count of 1877—the conduct of the party leaders will receive and deserve the highest praise of history.—[Springfield Republican.]

Senator Bayard's speech, delivered at Dover, Del., in 1861, ought not to materially injure his strength as a candidate and probably would not in the East. The worst sentiment in his speech, from the Union standpoint, was one which was expressed by many good citizens, that it was not wise to enter upon a war of rebellion. He was wrong, as Horace Greely was, and as Winfield Scott was; but how many would have favored the war in 1861 had they foreseen it? There was nothing in the speech in favor of secession, or indicating that the South had a right to secede. It breathed the hope that it would again return to the Union. That was twenty-three years ago. Mr. Bayard has been in his long public service honest, high-minded and patriotic. Men who were original and violent secessionists are now high in the councils of the government. Why should a severer standard be applied to Mr. Bayard than to these? Is there any danger that, if elected President, he would prove to be an enemy to his country?—[Boston Herald.]

It happened during the administration of Gov. Stephenson. A member of the Legislature from one of the mountain counties called at the Mansion one evening and Mrs. Stephenson asked him if he had attended any church since his arrival in the city. "Oh, yes, madam," said he, "I've been 'round to the tin-top." Mrs. S. was an Episcopalian and understood exactly what he meant, because at that time Ascension church had just received a tin-top that had not been painted and it was glistening in the sun. So she asked him how he liked the service and he replied: "I rise and fall with 'em every time."—[Frankfort Yeoman.]

ARTIFICIAL HAIR.—The fine fibre obtained from the inner lining of the palm-leaf bud is now manufactured into a substance so closely resembling human hair that it is employed as a substitute for the genuine article. The fibre may be obtained at any length and is capable of taking any color. This being true, ladies may now indulge, according to fancy, in black, brown, blonde or auburn tresses, without any feeling of squeamishness with regard to the origin of the false locks which assist their natural charms.—[Savannah News.]

S. A. Rendell, of Santa Rosa, California, has without doubt the largest rose tree in the world. It is 35 feet in height and the crown of the tree is 10 feet through. It is 11 feet from the ground to the first branch and the trunk is 42 inches in circumference or 14 inches in diameter. The variety is the white La Mique and during most of the year the tree is full of roses and is truly a thing of beauty. The tree is supposed to be 29 years old at present.

At this season of the year a lemon is worth untold gold as a health preserver. The way to get the better of a bilious system without blue pills or quinine, is to take the juice of two or three lemons in enough water to make it pleasant to drink without sugar, before going to bed. In the morning before breakfast repeat the dose.—[Medical Record.]

PAINT LICK, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Born to the wife of B. H. Bateson, on the 20th inst., a sweet little girl baby.

—Mr. Joe Baker has sold his farm of 210 acres to Mr. Jarvis for $35 per acre.

—Wheat harvest is at hand and most of the corn in this vicinity is in the weeds.

—Several of our farmers are building large barns to store away their growing crops of tobacco.

—George Kinnaird while painting a house fell from a scaffold and was pretty severely bruised up.

—Our agent here received a nice pair of boots from a brother agent at Argenta. The present was highly appreciated.

—Misses Ella Ward and Jennie Kennedy, two of Crab Orchard's little beauties, are visiting friends and relatives here.

—The young folks of Kirksville will give a basket picnic on the 4th of July.

If the weather continues to grow warmer it will be a rather hot time for dancing.

—Mr. J. C. Rucker got one of his hands badly burnt while putting in a man head to his boiler a few days ago. It rendered him unable to run his mill for a few days.

—Two of our young men had a little difficulty at the postoffice Friday night. Pistols and scythe blades were drawn, but friends interfered and there was no blood spilled.

—As Mr. Bake Walker was coming to the depot Friday after some goods his horse became frightened, ran off and tore his wagon to pieces, leaving Bake a wagon minus three wheels.

—Mr. Champ Shumate has a two-year-old Alderney heifer that has never had a calf, but is giving three gallons of milk a day. A calf that was running with her began to suck her is the reason why she came to her milk. Some of the people are a little superstitious as she was dropped the same day that Austin was hanged.

The Nicest and Most Comfortable Kind of Hanging

The sheriff of Windrow county, Arkansas, is one of the gentlest hangmen in the State. Several weeks ago, John Wheezmore, a well-known gentleman, was hanged in Windrow county. Mr. Wheezmore and the sheriff had long been friends, and when the death sentence was passed by the court, the sheriff began to busy himself in making arrangements tending to the comfort of his friend. He secured the best rope to be found in market, and as great was his desire not to inconvenience his old associate, that he lined the noose with silk.

A large crowd assembled to witness the performance. The sheriff explained how solicitous he had been and how earnestly he desired Mr. Wheezmore's part in the programme to pass off harmoniously.

"John," said he "no one ever pulled a better rope than this. It cost two and a half cents per pound more than the rope snatched last week by that Guinea nigger."

Mr. Wheezmore pressed in silent gratitude the philanthropic hand of his friend.

"This silk rope," the sheriff continued, "you will find to be as comfortable as a velvet collar. Many poor men, roughly jerked from life and the bosom of an appreciative community, would have dropped the great glistening tear of joy at the sight of such a loop, remember that the fortunes of this life should not make us proud and forgetful of those who are not so highly favored. Ah," arranging the noose around the condemned man's neck "Did you ever take anything more comfortable? No matter how tight you wear the silk collar it won't hurt you."

"But," whispered the victim, "will I run the risk of taking cold when this warm neck-gear is removed?"

"Oh, no. You will never take cold any more."

"Say," with a sudden sense of peril, "won't all this fine business kill me just the same as though it were an ordinary rope?"

"Oh, yes, John, but hang it, look how much more comfortable you will feel."

"Can't you ease me down? I don't want the reporters to get in their 'dull third' work."

"Easing you down would make no difference, for the reporters would say that you thudded. Ready?"

"Yes."

"So long."

"Zip!" so perfect had been the arrangements that Mr. Wheezmore expressed no dissatisfaction, but swung up and tro as though it were every day business. Yes the sheriff in Windrow county is the gentlest man in Arkansas.—[Arkansas Traveler.]

Mosquitoes Under the Microscope.

We have long held the opinion that the mosquito is an unmitigated scoundrel, who could give our own lively dea six stones and a beating over a long course, but we are now convinced. A gentleman has examined Mr. Mosquito under a microscope, and his description is to say the least startling. It appears that in the "bill" of the little beast alone there are no fewer than five distinct surgical instruments. These are described as a lance, two meat awns, a suction pump and a small Corliss steam engine. It appears that when a "skeeter" settles down to his work upon a nice, tender portion of the human frame the lance is first pushed into the flesh, then the two awns, placed back to back, begin to work up and down to enlarge the hole, then the pump is inserted, and the victim's blood is syphoned up to the reservoirs carried behind, and finally, to complete the cruelty of the performance, the wretch drops a quantity of poison into the wound to keep it irritated. Then the diminutive fiend takes a dry round just to digest your gore, and make tracks for a fresh victim, and if the first one has been of unusual good quality, he returns to the same happy hunting ground. The mosquito's marvelous energy, combined with his portable operating chest makes him at once a terror and a pest. Our English skin grazers are doves in comparison with them.—[London Sportsman.]

Language of the Lunch Counter.

"Three up, coffee!" called the waiter. The reporter looked curiously to see what the unusual order meant. The waiter brought the customer three small cakes and a cup of coffee.

"One brown buck," cried another waiter. In a few minutes he brought the customer a plate of buckwheat cakes done brown.

"Beef and" and "ham and" were frequently heard, and the orders were filled with beef and beans, and ham and eggs.

"Give me a plate of beans," he said to the waiter.

"One plate of Boston strawberries," yelled that functionary.

The old gentleman was startled, but soon received his favorite dish at a cost of ten cents, while New York strawberries would have cost him fifty cents.

"Cincinnati quail, have it fat," was the next order.

The cook cut of a large piece of fat pork and put it on the range.

"All waiters," said the proprietor, who sat at the door to see that no man escaped without paying his bill, "have a system of abbreviations and a peculiar nomenclature for food. Some of our customers know this technical form of ordering so well that they use it themselves."

A well dressed man here entered, and, taking his seat at the table, ordering the waiter to bring him two fishballs.

"One sleeve-button," cried the waiter, while the cook softly repeated, "sleeve buttons."—[N. Y. Dial.]

The last Legislature did what the Almighty never has done—made an infant of non-age a man of full age. We refer to the local act for the benefit of D. N. Cogar, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. Jesse Cogar, who is made a man in so far as his rights to contract and the contracted with are concerned.—[Mercer Citizen.]

—It is upon this vital issue of tariff reform that the democracy has gathered its strength; it is by its outspoken determination to stand or fall upon the issue that it has won the confidence of honest men. To fail to make other issues subordinate and secondary would be not only suicide, but suicide with dishonor.—[Brooklyn Eagle.]

According to the Pharmaceutical Record, a New York patent medicine manufacturer, being about to die, was asked by his friends how he would like to be buried. "Insert me," he said faintly, "at top of column, next to reading matter, fifty-two times, electro by mail." Then he quietly expired.

—THE GREAT—

BARGAIN STORE

Low Prices Make Business Easy.

Although the weather is hot and oppressive, our trade is continually on the increase. A great many predicted for us a short stay in Stanford, but on the contrary we wish to inform the people of Lincoln county that we are permanently located here and intend to continue to such as can be found nowhere else. We don't have to give chronos to induce people to buy of us. Our success is solely attributed to the wonderfully low prices we mark on our goods. Not a day passes but what we are asked how we can afford to sell goods at such prices. We answer that our buyer in New York is always on the alert hunting up bargains and we give our customers the full advantage of them. Just

A few days ago we received Six Cases Ladies' and Children's Hats,

—And as it was a little late in the season, are—

Closing Them Out at Less than One-half Regular Prices.

—They are going fast, too.—

In the last few weeks we have sold twelve dozen Dr. Warner's $1 Corsets at the extremely low price of 75c each,

Which is less than wholesale prices. Are about out of them now, but will shortly have others at as great a bargain.

BOOTS & SHOES

In this department our trade has been immense. All the reason we can give is because we save you from 25c to $1 per pair on same class of goods sold elsewhere.

HATS AND CAPS.

From the amount we have sold one would suppose that every man and boy in the county had one of our hats; but the trade in this line does not seem to fall off any. Our men's fine Straw Hats at 50 cents are a big bargain. They are fully worth double the money; men's Stiff Hats at $1. $1.50 and $1.75, worth from $2.50 to $3. Another lot of men's soft Fur Hats at $1.25 each. Boys' Wool Hats 10, 15 and 25 cents.

GLOVES & HOSIERY.

A job lot of Ladies' Silk Gloves, assorted colors, at 45 cents to close; worth 75 cents; 300 pair Ladies' White Cotton Hose, slightly soiled, at the unheard of price of 5 cents per pair; worth 20 cents. Other goods in proportion.

CLOTHING.

Boys' Wool Knee Pants 25 cents per pair; Boys' Good Wool mixed Suits $1.50, $1.75, $2, $2.50 and $3, running from four to eight years old; 25 Child's all-wool kilt Suits, from a New York sheriff's sale, slightly soiled, at $1.50 and $2; worth double; sizes from 2 to 6 years. Don't fail to see them.

Over 8,000 Spools of Our Machine Thread Distributed through the County.

It soft finish, 6 cord, 200 yards on a spool, Warranted to work on any machine and we sell two spools for 5 cents. You can get it nowhere else.

As we receive goods almost every day

You will Always Find something New at Our Store.

After you have looked all over town, come here and note the difference in prices. You will find our goods all marked in plain figures and if not as represented, your money will be cheerfully returned. We especially ask those that can to come in during the week and not wait until Saturday, as we are so rushed then that we can't give you the attention we would like to. Follow the crowd and will be sure to find the place.

ELIHANNO PHILLIPS, who is described as a pretty bad fellow generally, was arrested at East Bernstadt and brought here under guard of Wm. McGuire, Ed. Pitman and John Bowman, all well armed with shot-guns, on a warrant charging him with obtaining goods to the amount of $30 and over from Mr. Isaac Hamilton under false pretenses. The case not being ready for trial, Mr. Phillips was committed to the inner court of the institution for such cases made and provided and he is there to day.

FRIDAY BENNETT H. YOUNG writes that "We are meeting with great success throughout Kentucky and I think the State Exhibit at the Exposition will exceed our most sanguine expectations." A large number of counties are making preparations to display their resources and we intend that Lincoln shall be represented in a manner that will reflect the simple credit due her as one of the wealthiest and best in the State. We therefore call upon every citizen of the county to send in contributions of their products and we will see that they are properly credited and exhibited. Such an opportunity to advertise our varied resources does not often occur and we must not let it pass neglected.

THE FUGITIVE YOUNG was lodged in jail here Saturday night to serve a term of ten days and pay a fine of $25 for carrying a deadly weapon concealed. This is one of the worst cases of punishment on record in this county, and occasionally penalties for the Palaskians, passed along the road at Spiders M. S. Basili's, near Highland, with respect to this. A little earlier on his way he had been and opened upon his friends on the public highway. The "palooka" had him arrested and in less than twenty minutes a jury of housewives had been summoned, empaneled and a verdict rendered as above. This occurred ten miles in the country and an hour and a half later, preacher Young had reached the number of jail birds here to 25. If all cases were punished as swiftly as this, there would be no need of jails in this section.

A GENTLEMAN—Some time during the month of May, Thomas Jackson shot and killed Hugh Caldwell, another negro, both railroad hands, under the following circumstances: Jackson went to the boarding car and asked Caldwell, the cook, for some bread, when he was told to get out and wait till morning brought it to him. Instead of doing so, Jackson sat down on C's bed, when he was again ordered out. Caldwell applying a vile epithet to him and making demonstrations with a pistol, Jackson went and strided himself and when he returned it is said Caldwell fired at him, when he returned it with fatal effect. Jackson then fled, but a brother of the dead man followed him and had him arrested in Covington, where he has been in jail several weeks. The case was tried at Kings Mountain Friday, D. R. Carpenter prosecuting and A. F. Evans defending, and resulted in an acquittal of Jackson. It was Mr. Evans' maiden effort and it is said he acquitted himself handsomely.

This is the frame church in which this field was accustomed to worship and would have been sold for $1,600 and moved, but the commissioners decided that it could not be moved thro the streets. It will be torn down.

—Col. J. Stone Walker, as trustee for Samuel Shearer, Sr., sold publicly 1,132 acres of land in this county, situated on the line of the K. C. railroad near the Kentucky river, at an average of $3.22 per acre. [Richmond Register.]

—Maud S. yesterday made the fastest mile that has ever been trotted over the old Fleetwood track, going to the quarter in 31, reaching the half in 1:04, and finishing in beautiful style in 2:13. The track is conceded to be about two seconds slower than the Rochester, Buffalo, or Harrodsburg track. (New York Sun of 21.)

—Wheat harvest is now progressing in earnest and a fine return is rewarding the farmers' labors. The crop is fully up to, if not greater than the average. Judging from the fact that no buyer has appeared in this section this season, some farmers are fearful that prices will rate low, but it is not likely they will go below 85 cents, at which many crops in Bourbon and other counties have been engaged.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—P. F. Phillips bought from a gentleman in Jessamine county, a fall brother to the stallion that Dr. Nave pedigreed as "by Regulus and out of my old mare, and don't you forget it."

—A musicale for the benefit of the 2d Presbyterian church is to be given by the young ladies thereof at the residence of Mr. G. W. Welsh, Jr., Tuesday night, when a general good time is anticipated. An admission fee of 25c is to be charged.

—The freight train No. 13 on the C. & S. railroad ran off the track some time after midnight Sunday, owing to a broken rail. Five cars loaded with flour in sacks were thrown off, but neither the cars nor their contents were much injured. It is thought the rail was broken by the passage of the preceding train, No. 5—a passenger.

—Mr. Mark Chiles left Monday to take charge of the hotel office at Cumberland Falls. Mr. Richard Foley, who has been dangerously ill for several days past, was thought to be a little better to-day (Monday) at noon. Mr. S. W. Isaacs, representing P. F. Collier's publishing house, of New York, is here taking subscriptions for various handsomely-bound standard works. He comes highly recommended as a fair and reliable man by prominent citizens of the town he has visited. Mr. L. F. Struve and family have returned from a visit of several weeks to friends in Harrison county. Mr. Wm. Schugham, a very worthy young man, who was raised here and who is now with the wholesale liquor house of Stoll, Clay & Co., Lexington, was here visiting his mother's family. Col. C. E. Bowman, of Frankfort, who has been here among old friends about a week, went home Monday.

MT. VERNON DEPARTMENT.

Managed by Jno. B. Fish.

—Farmers have begun to harvest their wheat. The grain is very fine.

—The last four or five days have been very hot. The thermometer reached 95° Sunday evening about 2 o'clock.

—Miss Lizzie Hopper, of Lancaster, closed a five months' term of school at this place last Friday. Every one is pleased with her teaching.

—Mr. J. W. Miller as "Skint" in his life and travels in the far West is almost equal to Geo. W. Peck. People are complimenting his writings very highly.

—Thomas Row, who was adjudged a lunatic a short time ago, was returned to his home, having been pronounced by the Superintendent to be harmless and incurable.

—To-day is county court day; not much business. Our county courts are almost a blank. There is no stock to sell on the streets, or any thing of any kind; in fact, nothing but a few road orders to make.

—THE INTERIOR JOURNAL for this of five did not reach this point until Saturday evening. Whose fault was it? [They were put in the P. O. and sent to the train. Therefore it must be the agent's. Ed.]

—Dr. J. G. Carpenter, of Stanford, paid us a visit Saturday last. J. D. Chandler is in town this week. Miss Fannie Bell Hutchcraft, Paris, Ky., is visiting at Capt. Jack Adams. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Total value of property $797,114. No. of legal voters, 1,971.

—A family by the name of Lairs, living about 6 miles from town in the direction of Lancaster, were very badly poisoned by eating a strawberry pie. One of the family has died and several more of them are down sick and will probably die. The pie had been made and placed in the smoke-house to cool before dinner. There had been some "Rough n' Rats" put in the smoke house to kill rats, and it is supposed that the rats carried the poison to the pie, so that when it was eaten there was enough poison to make all who partook of it very sick and the mother of the family to die, as above stated. This happened several days ago and it is rumored in town this morning that three of the children have died, but this report is not generally accredited.
